Detailed Action

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 3, 10, and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Whipple, U.S. Patent No. 5,077,733.

1. As per claim 1, Whipple discloses a shared bus system, comprising:
 - a bus; (column 2, line 27)
 - a first circuit which accesses said bus; (Whipple, column 2, lines 32-33)
 - a second circuit which shares said bus with said first circuit, and accesses said bus; (Whipple, column 2, lines 32-33)
 - a counter circuit, which is provided in said second circuit, and performs a counting operation each time said second circuit accesses said bus; (Whipple, column 21 lines 36-39, and Abstract lines 8-15)
 - and an arbiter circuit which arbitrates requests for a right to use said bus between said first circuit and said second circuit (Whipple, column 13, lines 9-11, figure 3A), wherein said second circuit releases the right to use said bus in response to detection of a predetermined number of counting operations performed by said counter circuit after acquiring the right to use said bus from said arbiter circuit. (Abstract, lines 8-15 and column 13 lines 67-68, column 14 lines 1-10, figure 3A)

2. As per claim 3, Whipple discloses the system wherein a second circuit includes a register circuit, and the predetermined number is equal to a value stored in said register circuit (column 21, lines 54-60).

3. As per claim 10, Whipple discloses a method of sharing a bus, comprising the steps of:

- acquiring a right to use a shared bus by making a request (column 24, lines 65-68, column 25, lines 1-4);
- counting a number of accesses made to the shared bus after acquiring the right to use the shared bus (column 24, lines 65-68, column 25, lines 1-10);
- and releasing the shared bus in response to an event that the number of accesses reaches a predetermined number (claim 15, column 25, lines 11-12).

4. As per claim 12, Whipple discloses a method further comprising a step of storing a value in a register circuit, and the predetermined number is equal to the value stored in said register circuit. (column 21, lines 54-60)

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

5. Claim 17 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Whipple, U.S. Patent No. 5,077,733, in view of Takita et al, U.S. Patent No. 5,684,505.

Per claim 17, Whipple does not disclose a method wherein a bus is a memory bus to which a memory is connected, and a memory interface for accessing a memory through a memory bus shares a memory bus together with a liquid crystal display controlling circuit for controlling driving of a liquid crystal display device through said memory bus.

However Takita discloses a memory bus, display controller and a liquid crystal display device (Takita, column 38, lines 60-65).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention to combine the teachings of Whipple and Takita.

One of ordinary skill would be motivated to use a liquid crystal display since such a type of device has been quite a well-known type of display device in prior existing art.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 2, 4-9, 11, and 13-16 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
